

HISTORY

Vet Tech Institute is a private licensed school exclusively devoted to training people of all ages in competency-based skills leading to careers in veterinary technology. Vet Tech Institute (formerly Median School of Allied Health Careers) was founded in 1958 and became a part of Bradford Schools, Inc., in January 2005.

ACCREDITATION

The Veterinary Technician program is accredited by the American Veterinary Medical Association (AVMA) as a program for educating veterinary technicians. The Vet Tech Institute was the first school in western PA to be accredited by the AVMA!

AVMA accreditation is nationally recognized, and program graduates are eligible to sit for the Veterinary Technician National Exam (VTNE) in order to become Licensed Veterinary Technicians.

Vet Tech Institute is accredited by the Accrediting Commission of Career Schools and Colleges of Technology (ACCSCT).
